

READING

task cards

What text structure is used in the paragraph below?

Have you ever thought that horses and zebras look similar? Well, they are, but only one! While they do look alike, there are the biggest differences between them. One of the biggest differences between mammals are their size, shape, and coloration. Zebras are smaller than horses, but greater in length. Another difference is that zebras are black and white, while horses come in many colors. Horses also run faster than zebras.

#3

THE LIFETIME LEARNER
What text structure is used in the paragraph below?

Please cover your mouth when you cough. When you do not cover your mouth, your germs spread out in the air around you. Those germs could make other people sick or get stuck on surfaces that other people touch later. When you do cover your mouth, you keep your germs to yourself. This is not only polite, but a good way to help keep others healthy. Next time you need to cough, make sure to cough into your elbow.

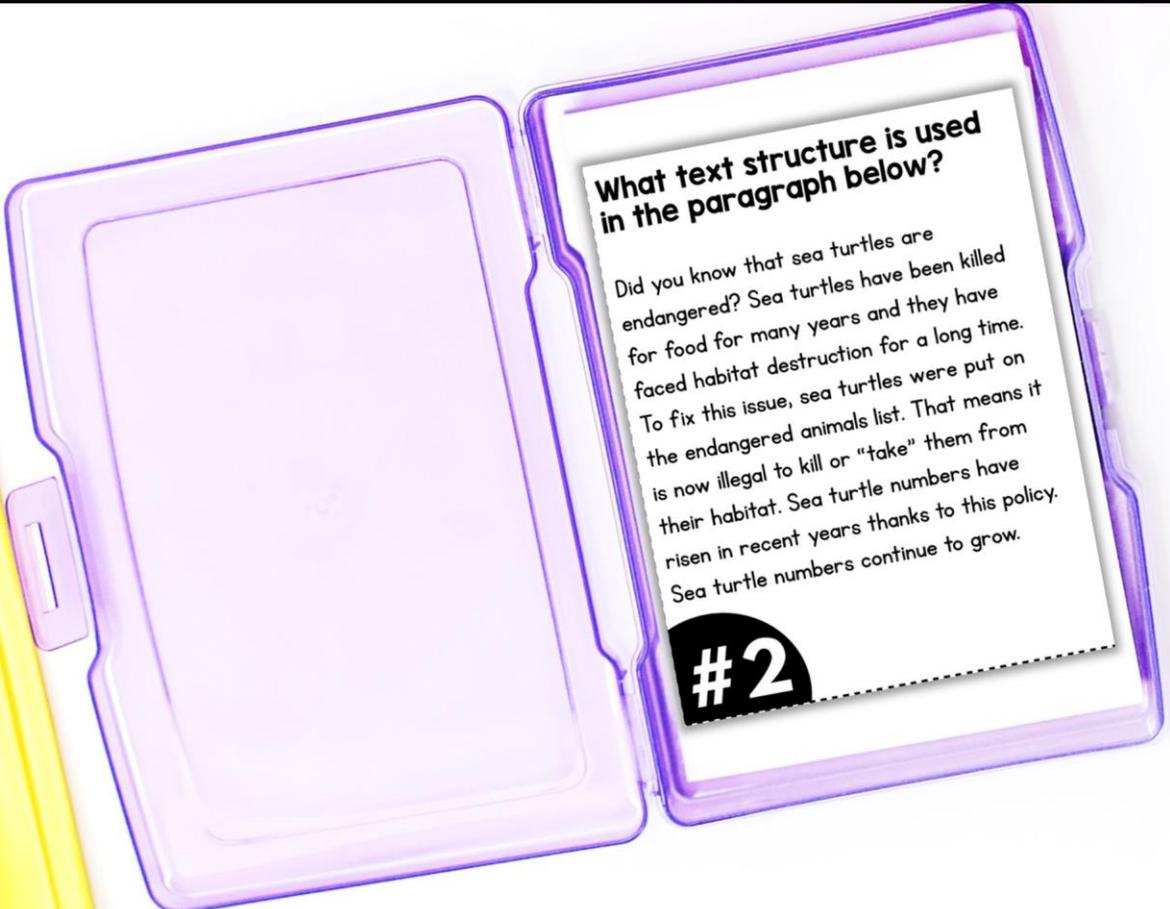

What text structure is used in the paragraph below?

Did you know there are over 350 dog breeds in the world? However, the American Quarter Horse Club (Club) only allows one breed at this time. To be a member of the Club, dogs must meet certain requirements. For example, a dog shows, having a white blaze on its face, and more. There are many other things being acknowledged.

TEXT STRUCTURES

WHAT IS THIS?

This is a set of 24 task cards that practice identifying what text structure is shown: problem and solution, compare and contrast, description, cause and effect, or sequencing.

What text structure is used in the paragraph below?

Did you know that sea turtles are endangered? Sea turtles have been killed for food for many years and they have faced habitat destruction for a long time. To fix this issue, sea turtles were put on the endangered animals list. That means it is now illegal to kill or "take" them from their habitat. Sea turtle numbers have risen in recent years thanks to this policy. Sea turtle numbers continue to grow.

#2

24 task cards

What text structure is used in the paragraph below?

Have you ever thought that zebras and horses look similar? Well, you're not the only one! While they do look alike, the biggest differences between the two mammals are their size, speed, and coloration. Zebras are smaller than horses but greater in length. Another difference is that zebras are black and white while horses come in many different colors. Horses also run faster than zebras.

#3 Compare and contrast

What text structure is used in the paragraph below?

Did you know there are over 350 dog breeds in the entire world? However, the AKC (American Kennel Club) only recognizes 195 breeds at this time. To become an "established" dog breed, dogs must meet certain requirements such as competing in dog shows, having certain characteristics, and more. There are more dog breeds being acknowledged every year by the AKC.

#1 Description

easy to use

What text structure is used in the paragraph below?

Have you ever wanted to learn to ride a bike? First, choose a bike that fits you best, then put on a helmet. Find a flat surface to climb onto your bike. After that, test the hand-brakes of your bike and put one foot on the ground. When you lift your foot up, start gliding and slowly rotate the pedals. When you are ready to stop, press the brakes and use your feet to help guide you to a stop.

#14

Sequencing

great practice

What text structure is used in the paragraph below?

There is a common problem in schools where kids are bullied for their clothes. To solve this issue, many schools proposed the idea of having school uniforms to have everyone wear the same outfit. No one would be bullied for what they wear. Because of this, school uniforms are used in many private schools today, and it has worked as a solution against bullying.

#23

problem + solution

Recording Sheet

recording sheet &
answer key included

#1	#2	#3	#4
#5	#6 Sequence	#7
#9	#10	#11
#13	#14	#15
#17	#18	#19
#21	#22	#23	#24

What text structure is used in the paragraph below?

Did you know soccer is actually called football in most places around the world? It was first played in 206 BC in China, where there are reports of people kicking a ball. Then, 19th century-English citizens played with pig bladders with their feet. Later in 19th century, soccer clubs started to appear in British schools, and in 1863, the Football Association (FA) was created. Finally, in 1904, the international football organization was made.

#6

BUY THE BUNDLE & SAVE!

READING task cards

NONFICTION BUNDLE

